

Bay Geeks Announces New Remote Assistance

Bay Geeks can now speed up your computer, remove viruses and spyware and much more without anyone even coming to your home or business.

Tampa Bay Area, FL (PRWEB) July 2, 2006 — Bay Geeks LLC, has announced the release of their new remote computer repair service. Remote assistance allows a qualified, experienced technician to safely and securely connect to your computer and repair it as if the technician were sitting at your computer – no matter where your PC is connected to the internet. Rates starting at $14.99.

These are some of the problems they can help with:

- Annoying Pop-ups
- Browser Hijacks
- Viruses
- Spyware
- Errors
- Slow Computer
- Program Installations
- Printer Problems
- Email Problems
- Updates/Patches
- Small Wired/Wireless Networks
- Office Applications
- And Much More

Alden Stenberg, CEO of Bay Geeks, LLC states, "With the rising costs of gas and everything else around us, we decided to take this opportunity to provide reduced rates for remote assistance. We save on gas and our clients save 20% and no longer have to wait for a technician to arrive."
